Youth on a mission

A large group of young residents of the Frog Lake First Nations took part in the KAMADA Walk, supporting the efforts of kokums and moshums in their crusade against drugs and alcohol.

Elders lead walk against drugs, alcohol

By VICKI BROOKER
Staff Writer

The holy scent of sweetgrass was on the air, the shiny boots of war veterans, the moccasins of elaborately attired dancers and staff bearers and the sneakers of walkers of all ages kept time to the beat of purple-shirted drummers as KAMADA Walk 2006 was officially welcomed to Frog Lake First Nation last Tuesday, August 29.

The word 'KAMADA' is made up of the first letters of the words explaining the initiative: Kokums (grandmothers) and Moshums (grandfathers) Against Drugs and Alcohol. The first walk was held in 2004 at Sturgeon Lake First Nation in Saskatchewan with over 1,000 elders and youths from over 40 First Nations taking part.

A long line of elders, following three ceremonial eagle staffs on the walk from Frog Lake Store, slowly made their way into the powwow grounds arbor from the south to meet a procession of local youth who were led by brightly costumed dancers on their walk from the truck stop further north.

Gary Berland, carrying the ceremonial KAMADA staff, Rocky Wade with the Frog Lake First Nations staff and Richard Cross with the Onion Lake First Nations staff led the colour party of flag and banner bearers who came forward to meet Chief Roland Quinney and his council before the elders led the youths in a grand entry. Many of the young people carried flags they had made at the previous week's Understanding Our Children gathering.

The long lineup of walkers included co-organizer Connie Quinney, clad in a traditional jingle dance costume, who said, "it was so beautiful, it brought tears to my eyes."

"Today is a special day for our youth, our parents, our grandmothers and grandfathers," Chief Quinney told the crowd. "We want to unite with surrounding reserves and carry this message to others who are part of Treaty Six."

Workers from all the First Nations are being urged to continue putting programs in place and making residents aware of the drug and alcohol programs that are available, Chief Quinney said.

"Last week we had an Understanding Our Youth conference here," he noted. "A lot of our youths participated, and I'm happy that the community put forth the effort."

That effort must be ongoing, and understanding is key, the chief said. "Let's understand our youth, and help them together. We must not stop. We must carry on. Let's carry the message across that we all love our children and grandchildren."

Chief Quinney thanked all the agencies involved in the walk, and said they have indicated they will continue their work with the young people.

Learn all about Elk Point at FCSS Information Night

By VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

Whether you want to explore volunteer opportunities, enrol your children in fall and winter activities, or learn more about what Elk Point has to offer, the annual FCSS Information Night, coming up on Tuesday, September 12, is the place to do it.

A long lineup of agencies and organizations has confirmed their attendance at the event, to be held in the Elk Point Elks Hall, says Kathy Foster of the FCSS Department.

"We're full up."

She also expects a good turnout of those wanting to find out all about Elk Point.

"We have a lot of new people coming to town, and I've been telling them that this is where they'll find out all about the events and activities."

FCSS director Deanna Easthope says the influx of newcomers has brought with it "the busiest month ever" for welcome basket distribution, with a dozen baskets of information and promotional items distributed to new residents.

Information Night will be especially beneficial to the newcomers, who will be able to check out the programs at local churches, learn about this year's lineup of further education classes and explore opportunities for everything from Ukrainian Dance classes to Elks and Royal Purple Lodge membership, or even to find out about the surrounding area by picking up some of the tourist information at the Chamber of Commerce booth.

It's also a great place to find out who's in charge of various groups, and who to contact at the numerous agencies who will be represented there.

Special attractions, such as the always-popular Atco Electric safety display, will also be part of the evening's lineup.

See you at Information Night, everyone!

Shorter, in-town route for Terry Fox Run

By VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

The brand-new organizer of this year's Terry Fox Run in Elk Point has good news for those who would like to be part of the event, but who don't feel that they're up to a 10-km run.

First of all, Kathy Foster says, the route will be shorter, only four kilometers long. Secondly, it will all be in town, beginning and ending at the Iron Horse Trail staging area gazebo, and based on an extended version of the Canada Day parade route.

Not only that, you don't have to be able or willing to run to take part. Walking, rollerblading, pushing a stroller are all fine ways to do your part to "keep Terry's dream alive" and raise funds toward cancer research.

The Run is slated for Sunday, September 17, with registration at 1:30 p.m. and the run beginning at 2:00 p.m.

Pledge sheets and more information are available at the FCSS office or by calling Kathy at 724-3800.

Watch for further updates in next week's issue.

EVERYONE WELCOME!

By Darren Tymofichuk
Elk Point 4-H Multi Club

Even though the summer was busy and going fast, a few of our club members took time to enjoy what the 4-H program has to offer.

In July, Bryant Schnurer attended the 4-H camp Leadership Through Counselling Seminar (LTCS). After he finished the camp he became part of a junior staff team at the Moose Lake 4-H summer camp. In August, Bryant attended the Provincial Judging Competition in Olds, AB and he did very well.

Chelsea Schnurer went to Fort Worth, Texas with the Alberta Judging Team of nine mostly 4-H members from across Alberta. Parts of the competition were public speaking, a game of Horse Bowl (similar to Jeopardy) and horse judging. Their team did very well also. They also attended the Youth Quarter Horse World Show.

This September 1 to 3, Chelsea will be down in Calgary at the Alberta Standardbred Yearling Sale. There are ten members from across Alberta in this project. The project achievement show involves halter and showmanship classes. Members must decorate their horse's stall representing their horse's name and they must also market and present their animal to the buyers.

Moose Lake Junior and

Intermediate 4-H camps were held from August 7th to 11th and 14th to 18th. Janice Tymofichuk and Robyn Ockerman went to the camp to see all their 4-H friends and to make new ones. They had a lot of fun.

A new year of 4-H is about to start. Check out our table at the FCSS Information Night on September 12. Our club's open house night will be on Wednesday, September 13 at 7:00 p.m. at the F. G. Miller High School. We will be looking for project ideas for this year as well as possible activities.

Remember, 4-H is not for just cows and horses, and it is not just for farm kids, either!

Elders lead walk

Mary Rose Naytowhow of Sturgeon Lake, SK, one of the co-founders of the Kamada Walk, also addressed the crowd and explained the background of the walk and its mission, which is to lay the foundation for First Nations communities to fight substance abuse and focus on healing and support programs.

"We want to get the message across," Naytowhow said.

For all of the youths, she had a special plea, which stemmed from the loss of a close family member.

"Please say no to crystal meth, whatever you do."

Other featured speakers during the afternoon included Fred Sasakamoose from Ahtahkahoop First Nation, an ex-NHL player with the Chicago Blackhawks, Moise Paul, a Frog Lake elder who was a co-founder of the Understanding Our Youth gathering, Frog Lake youth representative Trisha Wade and Frog Lake First Nations councillor Angeline Berland.

Kehewin, Saddle Lake, Goodfish Lake and Cold Lake First Nations were other northeast Alberta stops on the Kamada Walk 2006, which started in Onion Lake. From Cold Lake, the walk moved back into Saskatchewan to Big Island Lake/Ministikwan and Loon Lake First Nations, arriving at Flying Dust First Nation to wind up their walk at the powwow there.

Grandparents share wisdom

The older generation has long been regarded as a source of wisdom. How true this is was abundantly clear last Tuesday as the Kamada Walk arrived in Frog Lake.

Kokums and Moshums (grandmothers and grandfathers) Against Drugs and Alcohol is a movement in the right direction. These elders have seen enough sorrow, enough loss, enough violence and they want to put a stop to it while they still have grandchildren to love. They want to see an end to the destruction of lives by drugs and alcohol, and they are determined to get others on board and to spread the word across many First Nations, and beyond.

The problems the kokums and moshums recognize are not theirs alone. Far from it. Drugs and alcohol are problems which affect all cultures, all income levels, all age groups, all across this country and in other countries around the world. Nor are they the only elders who might just be able to make a difference if they were to band together and say, "Enough is enough. Let's put a stop to this."

Grandmothers, grandfathers, babas, gidos, mémères and pépères... in fact the older generation of all cultures, might just have the key to lock up the problem once and for all.

WAY BACK WHEN..

Financial and medical emergencies declared

HERE'S THE NEWS THAT MADE THE HEADLINES OF THE LAKELAND REVIEW AND ELK POINT REVIEW FOR THE WEEK OF SEPTEMBER 5 IN...

1986

Allan Frankiw, a production engineer with Westmin Resources, announced that he would seek a town council seat in the October general election. Mayor Bruce Kleeberger presented a brief to the Northern Alberta Development Council asking for help in lobbying the provincial government for assistance for northern communities severely affected by recent resource industry cutbacks.

1991

County and town councils met to discuss landfill concerns identified by the public health officer, including removal of chemical containers from the site, establishment of a burning pit and area to store discarded metal, restricting the area where users could dump refuse, and more frequent compaction of garbage. Elk Point OORP presented the Pioneer Circle with a $5,000 donation toward their new seniors' centre.

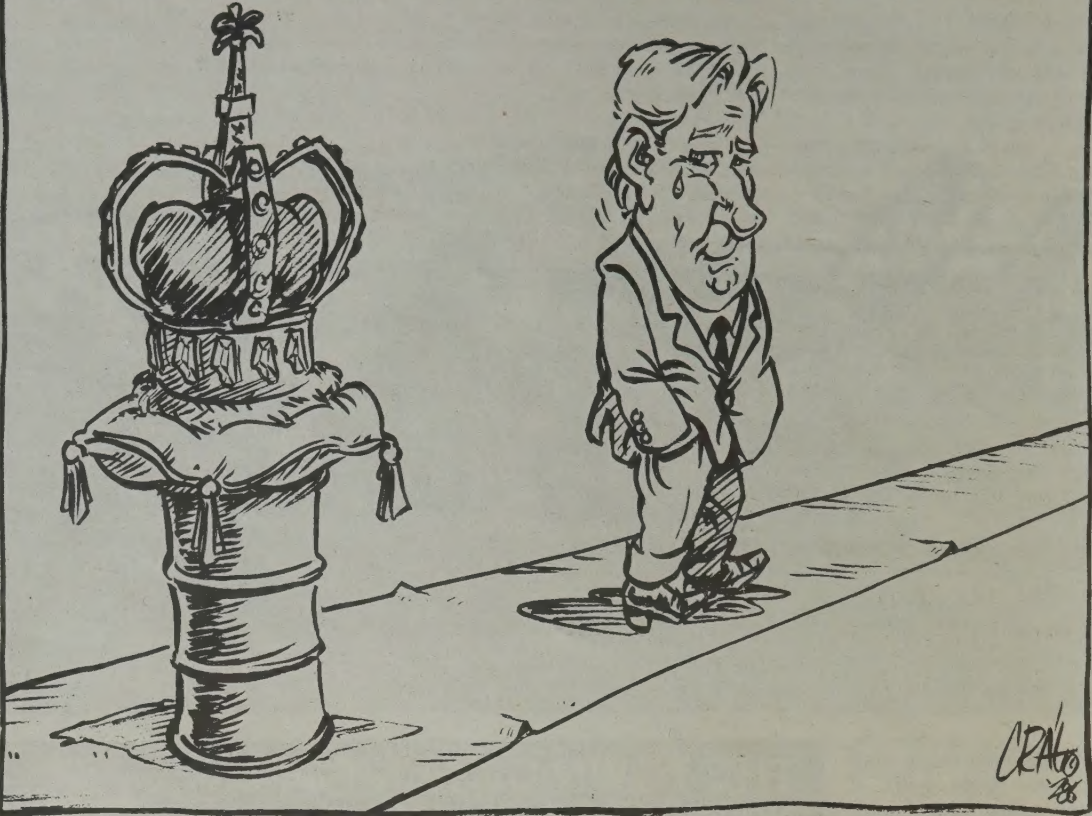

1996

The situation faced by the Physician Recruitment Committee was looking hopeful after the Minister of Health and the College of Physicians and Surgeons declared Elk Point as being in an emergency medical situation, which meant they could now recruit doctors not yet licensed in the province. Mitch Goulet and Alex Serniak were honoured by the RCMP for their part in rescuing six people on Kehewin Lake when their boat overturned May 25.

2001

F. G. Miller High School saluted the Class of 2001, with graduate Tanya Pankiw turning over the ceremonial Crusader sword to Class of 2002 representatives Melvin Easthope and Kali Cousins. What began as a small birthday party for Lillian Palinka at the Seniors Recreation Centre turned into a family reunion for 74 family members and friends of the Maksymec and Palinka families.

THE KING IS GONE - LONG LIVE KING RALPH!!

GUEST COLUMN

September has arrived!

Yes, September has arrived with all of its fall happenings now taking place. We began with the September long weekend which was fun and enjoyable. Now today, all students are back in school. Fall is in the air with weather changing and the colour of leaves changing on some trees. Our crops and gardens are in the harvest season. So really, it is a changing time.

With all of these changes, let us not forget some important days ahead. One such important day is this upcoming Sunday, September 10 as it is Grandparents' Day. Then after that, other important events will be taking place during the month of September. Tuesday, September 12 is the Community Information Night to be held in the Elks Hall from 7 to 9 p.m., Elk Point Regional Allied Arts Society annual meeting will be Thursday, September 14, Sunday, September 17 is the Terry Fox Run, the Canada Day Committee (planning for the Elk Point Town Centennial) will meet on Monday, September 18 and then on Wednesday, September 27, Steve Harmer, a Motivational Magic speaker will be speaking during the day to the students of Elk Point Elementary School and in the evening to students, parents and the public. More details for all of these events will be found in the advertising in this paper. Mark your calendars for these important dates.

Speaking of fall with all of its happenings, when you think about it, it is funny how one of the September events is Grandparents Day and it takes place in the fall of the year. Mother's Day is in May and springtime, a time of new birth and love. Father's Day is in June or the beginning of some sports like golf, ball and boating, etc. Now September is here and it is Grandparents Day. It is really the time of harvest. We can liken harvest to grandparents because they have lived lives of great contributions to their family members and the fruit of all that is really a harvest worth being thankful for by family members. There fore, let us make it a special day for our grandparents. These people need to hear from their children and grandchildren. Plan to spend time with them on Sunday, September 10.

For those grandparents who are able and for those who have the desire to enter the Alberta Council on Aging Grandparents Walk-a-thon in Elk Point on Sunday, September 10, the walk will begin at 2 p.m. from the Seniors Centre. Family members are also being invited to walk with the grandparents. Pledge sheets can be picked up at the FCSS office, Apple Drugs or Home Town Grocers. Money raised from this event will go to the Alberta Council on Aging which is an advocate organization on behalf of seniors. This year, some of the money raised will go to Pioneer Circle to help with their utility bills and some money will go to some African grandparents who are raising their grandchildren after the children's parents died from AIDS.

After the walk on Sunday, September 10, everyone is invited to come to the Seniors' Centre to enjoy a program of entertainment, cake, coffee and juice. Also at this time, everyone will be able to view a display of art and stories as drawn and written by the students from Elk Point Elementary School. So really, this will be a great day for everyone of all ages to come and spend time with all grandparents. Grandparents are great! We love you and let us all wish you a very happy Grandparents' Day!

Challenging August at Heritage Lodge

By HEATHER PAQUETTE
Activity Director

August brought us a particularly nasty flu with some of the residents being transported to the hospital and the entire lodge ending up in isolation for nine long days. This was such a new experience for many of us, myself included, that I didn't really know what to do for activities. During that period, activities were down to a bare minimum as we could not touch items other residents would handle. This meant no bingo, no card bingo, no lawn dice, no beanbag, and no travel to England. During this time we were limited to brain teasers, story corner and watching a few movies – documentary about the Elk Point Mural and "Shrek". Happily, we are all now recovered. After the 17th., we started back on track. Some of the residents confided that they now had first-hand knowledge of what it is like to be locked up and not one of them liked it much.

On August 24th, we went to London to visit the Queen and the Prince (a.k.a. Winnie and Jim Shepard). We also watched a travel video about London. The residents dressed up in their finery and wore hats for this special occasion. On the following Saturday, the residents watched "My Fair Lady."

Ten of us took in the Jamboree at Fort George and Buckingham House on the 27th. The music set our feet to toe-tapping and a great time was had by all!

On August 29, five of us went on the rescheduled

Wine and Pie Tasting trip, complete with lunch. At Orchard Palace, we had a tour of the orchard complete with samples of apples. After meeting a group of seniors from the Smoky Lake Lodge and a smaller group from Heinsburg we learned more a Victor and Elizabeth Chrapko's decision to grow organic foods.

The Pathway That Has No End

We follow a pathway that has no end as we travel through life day by day,
Together with those who are dear to our hearts and are there by our side, come what may.
But sometimes a loved one must travel ahead for reasons that aren't always clear.
And we're left behind to continue along,
missing one who is no longer here.
And while it may seem that the pathway has stopped,
it merely has rounded a bend,
And our loved one goes on to a much brighter place down the pathway that has no end.

To all our family, friends, co-workers and customers, thank you for your kind words, encouraging phone calls, cards and gift baskets. We appreciate all the support. Chris was a special person, and one can only hope that he has now found his serenity.

IN MEMORIAM

SERNIAK, Sheena Dawn
Oct. 19, 1985-Sept. 9, 2002

*If tears could build a stairway,
and memories were a lane,
I would walk right up to heaven
to bring you home again.
No farewell words were spoken,
no time to say good-bye
You were gone before I knew it and only God knows why.
My heart still aches with sadness,
and secret tears still flow.
What it meant to lose you
No one will ever know.*

Love you to the moon and back.

Dad

EPHC Ladies Auxiliary report

By BERNICE CAPJACK Review Contributor

No meeting was held in July, but we resumed on August 28. Items for discussion included the scholarship, the making of a list acknowledging all the items the Auxiliary has been purchasing for hospital use, and the plaque to display names that monies have been donated in memory of, toward the Auxiliary.

Two items of the constitution were discussed and voted on. Membership fees will increase to $5.00. A third scholarship will be offered to a student entering a more than two-year program in the field of medicine.

It was decided to update the photograph albums and the president offered to start updating. We are looking for any pictures or articles that anyone may have of events, parties, etc. in the last 10 years. If you have anything, please contact Bernice at 724-3058.

Our dementia case is being made.

The third place ribbon we received for the Auxiliary float has been placed in the display case.

The next meeting is Monday, September 25. We hope to see new members as well as the rest of us.

Be a volunteer and be proud to serve your community.

Heritage Lodge

We then sampled cheese, wine and apple pie with thick, thick whipping cream. The second part of our journey took us to the home of Cecilia and Walter DeSilva where we watched a raku pottery demonstration and enjoyed organic rhubarb and saskatoon juice and rhubarb and apple pie.

The birthday party on the 30th was the grand finale to a very trying but eventful month.

The highlights for September will be the yard sale on September 12, our Travel to Australia on September 14, volunteer appreciation night on September 19 and the Alzheimer's Day coffee break and presentation on September 21
